

the drinks business

Nautilus Sauvignon Blanc

“A benchmark Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc, this entry-point expression from Nautilus is loaded with pear, gooseberry and lemongrass characters, before ending with a long, intense, citrus zesty finish.”

Patrick Schmitt – 1st January 2022

the drinks business

Kendall Jackson Vintner's Reserve Sauvignon Blanc, 2020

"This wine certainly shows the care and attention given to the vineyards. Mid-weight with racy acidity giving structure, the wine has yellow plum, pineapple and golden apple flavours with vanilla pod accents. Touches of oregano, white pepper and spice add complexity."

Patrick Schmitt – 1st January 2022

THE WINE MERCHANT.

Independent thinking for drinks retailers

Dalrymple Cave Block Chardonnay

“This wine is not scared of showing a bit of acidity as that’s a hallmark of where they are in the world. It’s balanced off against the fruit power. The lees stirring adds a bit of texture and gives it a bit of creaminess and biscuity character. The wine ages forever because the natural acidity keeps it together so well.”

Pete Caldwell – 1st January 2022

THE WINE MERCHANT.

Independent thinking for drinks retailers

Dalrymple Estate Pinot Noir

“This is a blend of their vineyard in the North at Piper’s River and their vineyard down at Coal River Valley in the South. The fruit of the North has flavours of sour cherry and cinnamon spice, and from the South it’s a more blue fruit spectrum and black cherry flavours. It has a lovely concentration and beautiful spice”

Pete Caldwell – 1st January 2022

DAILY EXPRESS

Natureo de-alcoholised Garnacha

“This medium-bodied blend of garnacha and syrah grapes is barrel-ages in French oak leaving it flavoursome - blackberries, cherries and a hint of spice - yet alcohol free. a gift!.”

Matt Nixon – 15th January 2022