Graham's LBV Port, 2015

“Roasted coffee beans and dark fruits on the nose and palate, dried herbs and wood spices. Aged in oak vats for five years before bottling, this LBV Port is comforting and delicious, with pure juicy plum and blackberry liqueur wrapping around its solid backbone of tannins. Warm, long finish.”

Celeste Crianza, 2018

“Seriously classy Spanish red from a region that rivals Rioja. 100% tempranillo (aka tinta fino), it delivers plenty of rich blackberry, cassis and prune with subtle spiciness and a rounded texture. Looks smart too – would be a welcome gift. Red meat, especially lamb, suits it best.”

Pewsey Vale Eden Valley Riesling, 2020

“Intense and fresh, but with a bit of flesh, this shows brightness and purity with floral hints, a core of lemon and lime and a touch of grapefruit pith, all in harmony.”

SUNDAY EXPRESS

Heggies Vineyard Estate Botrytis Riesling, 2017

“Botrytis is a fungus that attacks grapes, and often it’s bad. But in ripe grapes it can concentrate flavour and sweetness, while adding its own character. The result here is a fresh, viscous sweet wine with notes of melon and apricot, and a spicy finish.”
