Paul Clüver Estate Chardonnay
Cool-climate elegance

Few producers understand cool-climate Chardonnay quite like Paul Clüver. Grown in the elevated vineyards of Elgin, this Estate Chardonnay is rooted in precision and purpose, shaped gently by nature. This makes it an excellent example from one of South Africa's cooler regions. While peach and citrus are complemented by subtle toasted hazelnut and a fine mineral line, resulting in a wine that is both elegant and quietly complex.

Paul Clüver Estate Pinot Noir
Pure expression of Elgin

Pinot Noir may be known as the "heartbreak grape", but at Paul Clüver it feels more like a long-standing love affair. Elgin's cool conditions allow the variety to develop remarkable finesse, with vibrant red and dark berry fruit layered over gentle earthy notes and a touch of spice. Graceful, refined and effortlessly drinkable, it captures the understated charm that has made the estate one of South Africa's Pinot specialists.

Kaapzicht Family Pinotage
First Release
A modern take on Pinotage

The inaugural Family Pinotage marks a new chapter for Kaapzicht. Rather than following the richer, traditional style, this wine embraces a fresher, more contemporary expression of South Africa's signature grape. Juicy berry fruit, ripe plum and delicate sweet spice make it approachable and versatile, equally at home alongside a relaxed supper or a weekend braai. It's a confident reminder of how modern Pinotage continues to evolve.

Expanding the Cape: Fells Builds on South African Excellence

South Africa continues to offer wine merchants one of the world's most compelling combinations of quality, character and value. With the addition of Kaapzicht Estate and Paul Clüver Family Wines to the Fells portfolio earlier this year, the business now represents six of the country's most respected producers in the UK: Capensis, Dalkeith Wines, Kaapzicht Estate, Paul Clüver Family Wines, Vilafonté and Warwick Wine Estate.

Together, these producers showcase the diversity and excellence of South African winemaking. This collection offers merchants a distinctive range of wines with genuine provenance, strong stories and diversity.

Kaapzicht Sonsteen Chenin Blanc
Artisanal old vine skin-contact Chenin

"Steen" was once the name by which Chenin Blanc was known in South Africa, and Kaapzicht's Sonsteen pays tribute to that history. Produced from certified heritage vineyards over 40 years old and carrying the Old Vine Project seal, the vines grow among granitic soils that contribute both character and freshness. Orange pith, white peach and lively acidity combine to produce a textured yet vibrant Chenin that highlights why old-vine examples remain among the Cape's greatest strengths.

Capensis Silene 2023
The nuance of Stellenbosch

Capensis Silene captures both the heritage and modern ambition of South African winemaking. The intention of this Chardonnay is to highlight the nuances and profound flavour profile that can be found in the Stellenbosch winegrowing region. Enticing vibrant flavours of longy lemon drop, and zesty citrus unfold, gracefully balanced by biscuity notes that enhance the wine's complexity. A smooth, creamy texture elevates the wine's richness, culminating in a briny, persistent finish that lingers with a mouthwatering elegance.

Warwick Trilogy
A Stellenbosch classic

A long-established benchmark for Stellenbosch, Trilogy remains Warwick's flagship Bordeaux-style blend. Built around Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon, with a small proportion of Merlot, it showcases the region's natural affinity for these classic varieties. Winemaker JD Pratorius has crafted a wine of poise and structure, with black cherry, cassis and cedar framed by refined tannins. Serious and austere,

Seriously Old Dirt by Vilafonté
Honouring South Africa's ancient soils

Seriously Old Dirt takes its inspiration from the Cape's ancient soils originating one billion years ago. Soil is the foundation of this wine, and the character of the soil is what gives the wine its unique defined personality. Cabernet Franc leads the blend, delivering a silky texture carrying concentrated black fruit and dark chocolate through a long, polished finish. A wine with depth and sophistication reflecting its remarkable terroir and Vilafonté's uncompromising approach to quality.
